European Association for Music in Schools

4 days of debates, keynotes, presentations, workshops and concerts!

This conference draws our attention to core aspects of music education. It focuses on general music education – on artistry, musicianship, craftsmanship, skills and knowledge and the question of how to achieve high quality music education in classrooms and communities. Contributors will present research, projects and practices related to pre-school, primary and secondary education. There will be opportunities to consider good practices in contexts; to discuss music teachers' skills; the role of artists in music education; and to participate in practical workshops.

Main themes:

- Pupils' musicianship
- The teacher as musician
- The musician as teacher

The conference will be held at the Royal Conservatoire, The Hague, The Netherlands, www.koncon.nl.

Conference fee

Early bird (Payment before 1st March 2012) €150
